

Whitehouse Community Primary School
Marlow Road
Ipswich
IP1 5JN

Know your pulse day

Friday 19th September 2015

To raise the profile of keeping your heart healthy and for children to gain an understanding of how important this human organ is, we had a themed day across the school. Children were engaged in various activities to improve their knowledge and understanding. Here is a selection

Year One children finding their pulse and then increasing their pulse rate by dancing

Nursery children – making their hearts beat faster!

Year Two children learning about pumps and valves.

The children took part in an investigations session – they played with lots of different objects that all turned out to be pumps - they thought hard about how they work and what they do - then they thought about the pump that's very important in our bodies - the heart.

